

Dedication Saturday

Board Checks Building

Hancock General Hospital was formally approved Monday by the board of supervisors, who also endorsed a house to house canvass among beachfront residents by the beach clean up committee before advertising for bids on the proposed county-supported project.

Approval of the hospital is subject to final state hospital commission inspection. In other hospital matters, the supervisors accepted a $56 addition to the contract price after architect W. W. Dawson explained the waiting room and business office ceiling had to be adjusted to accommodate recessed lighting fixtures varying in dimension from the required original. The revised contract price was set at $470,873.50.

Construction time was extended 12 more days on the hospital contract beginning the first day after the end of the strike of the boiler room crewmen. Dawson noted the mechanical and electrical contractors have a considerable amount of work to complete and said he would investigate charges from E. W. Peneugy, consulting engineer of New Orleans, that the water well pressure line had not been in-

HOSPITAL QUALIFICATIONS SOAR - New Hancock General Hospital anesthetist, Rubie Harris of Long Beach, unpacks operating room equipment. Miss Harris, a qualified nurse, will be on duty for all surgery cases, a requirement for hospitals qualified to perform surgery.

Barnett Hospital Speaker

Dedication of Hancock County's new $470,873 general hospital will be at 2 p.m. Saturday with Gov. Ross Barnett as principal speaker.

The new structure is scheduled to begin operations Monday with the transfer of all patients now lodged in the old Carroll Avenue hospital, according to Administrator Tom Logue. With a 32 patient capacity, the hospital is expected to serve approximately 12,000 persons in a five-mile radius, Logue said.

Special ribbon cutting ceremonies will be performed by Dr. A. P. Smith, hospital medical staff chief, following Barnett's address. An American flag donated by the local American Legion post in memory of the late Dr. H. M. Keefe will be raised on the hospital flag pole.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. E. A. Lindsey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, while the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin Moloney, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church will pronounce the benediction.

During the dedication members of the board of supervisors, hospital board of trustees, hospital medical staff, hospital auxiliary president Mrs. A. P. Smith, and any other ranking state officials or attending members of the state hospital commission will be introduced by Sam Favre (Cont. on Page 6.)

Carver Youth Found in Road Near Logtown

The body of Frank Joseph Carver, 20, of Napoleon community, was found lying in the middle of Rt. 604 about a mile south of the intersection of Rt. 43, near Logtown, at about 10:45 p.m. yesterday, Beat 1 Constable H. G. Dean said today. Carver had apparently been hit by a car while lying in the road, he said. Albert J. Courtney, 34, Rt. 2 Box 233, Picaune, called authorities from Picaune a short time after the body was found. Dean said, and told officers he and his wife were driving north on Rt. 43 and saw the body too late to stop. He said that when he realized he could not avoid hitting the man he attempted to straddle him to avoid rolling (Cont. on Page 7.)

Memorial Day Observance Set

The public is invited to attend Memorial Day services at 7 p.m. Monday in the American Legion Home. Veterans who died during the past year will be honored with eulogies, certain members being assigned to give a brief sketch of the life of the deceased member. All legionnaires, auxiliaries and affiliates are requested to attend in uniform, Joseph H. Benvenutti, Chaplain, said.

During day services, the grave of every deceased veteran will be decorated with a flag. John D. Rutherford Jr., Legion and county service officer, is in charge of the graveside decorating and asks anyone knowing any graves not decorated in the past to contact him. He anticipates that about 200 graves will be decorated in the county. Special services will be at the graveside of Clement R. Bontemps in St. Mary's cemetery on Ne-caise Street, Rutherford said.

24-Boat Mississippi Coast Regatta Here

The first annual 24-boat fish class regatta for the Mississippi Coast Yachting Assn. championship will be staged this Saturday and Sunday at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. The member clubs, Biloxi, Gulfport, Pass Christian and the host, will pool their entire fish class fleets totaling 24 vessels and a four race series with each club entering 24 different skippers will be sailed.

The club amassing the highest total points for the series will win the coveted Chapman trophy which has been in existence since the Mississippi Coast association was formed and is symbolic of the MCYA championship, heretofore sailed in a four-boat four-race series. Two races are scheduled Saturday, the first at 2 p.m. and the second 30 minutes after conclusion of the first. Sunday activities will begin at 10:30 a.m. and the final race is at 1:30 p.m.

Individual trophies will be presented to the first six skippers to finish in each race for a total of 24 individual awards.

This regatta will mark the first time in Gulf Yachting Assn. history that a fleet of 24 fish (Cont. on Page 11.)

Cancer Crusade Is Nearing Goal

The 1960 Cancer Crusade in Hancock County is nearing its goal of $1,050, according to J. D. McCullough, drive chairman, who this week expressed appreciation to the many persons who have sent in contributions.

The drive now stands at about $825, well above the approximately $600 raised in the county last year.

Kiln Road Hearing Set Next Friday

Proposed construction of the new Kiln Road as part of the county's secondary road system will be aired at a public hearing at 10 a.m. next Friday, May 27, at the Hancock County Courthouse, the State Highway Department has announced.

The project, No. S-0107 (3)A, begins at a point on Mississippi Highway 603 about three miles west of Bay St. Louis and runs north 9.18 to Kiln.

M. L. Carroll of the highway department's public relations office in Jackson will conduct the hearing, assisted by J. F. Brown- (Cont. on Page 7.)

Sheriff Given Board Apology

Trustees of Hancock General Hospital at a called meeting Monday night apologized to Sheriff Gerald Price sr. for alleging at their May 10 session that a Negro patient was removed from the hospital while injured and under sedation by a representative of the sheriff's office.

In a letter to Price dated May 24 the board states, "It was determined after a thorough investigation, that the sheriff's office was in no way involved or responsible for removal of the patient." The letter served as an official apology.

Earlier actions of the board were based upon complaints from hospital personnel and the physician in charge of Joe Williams, Negro, of Venice, La., that Williams was removed for a Justice of the Peace hearing and had to walk back to the hospital from the courthouse.

At the May 10 session the board voted 5 to 2 to write Price advising that it would not "condone or acquiesce" removal of patients by his deputies or himself without the consent of the patient's doctor and the hospital administrator.

School Sale Methods Under Study by Board

How to dispose of vacated school property for the best possible price occupied the County Board of Education at a recessed meeting Saturday when it was finally decided to see first what the Sellers School will bring.

The board had been scheduled to advertise for sale Sellers, Catshoula and Leetown Schools but Attorney Walter J. Phillips raised the question of whether they should be disposed of individually or as a group and several other points involved.

Indications are that if Sellers brings enough, the board will dismantle the lumber from Leetown building and use it with the money from Sellers to build teachers' quarters for Hancock North Central.

Coast Council Hear Plea on Right to Work

Road Patrol Role Outlined

Members of the Mississippi Highway Patrol in Hancock County will attend strictly to traffic on the highways and not interfere with local law enforcement officials, according to new District 8 Inspector J. W. Warren, who outlined patrol policy plans Monday to the board of supervisors.

Warren proposed radio communications between the county sheriff's office and the patrol station at Gulfport and the local patrol auto. "This would give the sheriff two more trained men," he said.

Highway radar along the six coast counties was set out Sunday, Warren said, warning that patrol units will use it extensively in an effort to cut area fatalities and accidents.

"Radar units will not be used in 50 mile-an-hour speed zones, but only on the open highway," Warren said.

Concerning liquor violations, Warren said any patrolman can stop a local resident on the highway and if liquor is found in the auto, take the liquor to the local sheriff and get a receipt for it. Then the driver is taken to a local justice of the peace, but the patrolman has no further authority in the case, Warren said, noting the patrolman can not determine disposal of the liquor or what actions the justice of the peace takes.

"We are not a state police force," Warren said. "But I want my men to keep their actions above board in case we do have to act as state police."

Customs on the coast are certainly different from North Mississippi, Warren noted, adding that he wanted to keep local patrolmen here since they understood the area people. Warren has the authority to suspend or transfer any member of his force.

He said he intends to set up a system of roadblocks which will seal off the Mississippi Coast to any gangsters or thugs using the coast as a roadway between operations in neighboring states.

A request for a contribution to repair of the district substation by Warren was taken under consideration by the board. The county contributed several thousand dollars to build the station several years ago, Warren noted. Discussion of purchase of the proposed radio communications was postponed until a later date.

J. Marengo Elects As President

WATER

With the Mississippi and other rivers and streams, some authorities claim the state of Mississippi has the greatest potential source of water supply on the North American Continent.

The average daily flow of the Mississippi River is 363 billion gallons, and other surface streams traversing the state carry 48 billion gallons a day. The average annual rainfall in Mississippi is about 55 inches, and underground water sources are sufficient to supply most of the needs of municipalities and manufacturing plants.

American industry now uses one and one-half times as much water as in 1952. It takes 50,000 gallons to produce a ton of paper, 65,000 to manufacture a ton of steel, 600,000 to turn out a ton of synthetic rubber, and 800,000 to grow an acre of cotton.

As the need for more water becomes the nation's number one problem, Mississippi is predestined to cash in on a priceless asset. Farms, factories and homes will prosper where water is available in abundance.

Partially surrounded by rivers and the Gulf, with surface and underground water, and an ample rainfall, Mississippi is richly blessed. Increasing prosperity will continue to flow in Mississippi as water and electricity underwrite the economic future of a great state.

stalled on the deep well pump. The beach resident canvass is expected to determine the amount of debris to be removed in the clean up and to hear any objections to the project.

Committee member Col. Marcel Gillis proposed the canvass after raising the possibility that residents may refuse to allow their unused pier posts to be removed during the clean up campaign. This situation could easily arise, the board agreed, but a Waveland town ordinance passed this month will limit future pier construction until old pier piling or posts are removed. A similar ordinance is expected to be passed soon by the Bay St. Louis commission council.

Supervisors noted the county only allowed to contribute up to $5,000 on the proposed project, under a local and private bill enabling them to help finance the removal of piling and underwater hazards on the water side of the beach. Additional financing will have to be private, board members said.

County seaway superintendent C. L. Mobley was advised to draw up specifications for an advertisement for bids for the project. Debris and piling can be removed either by jetty, dynamite or crane, the supervisors noted.

Attending the session with committee chairman Dr. John Dicks were James Robert, N. L. Carter, Leonard Ladner and Waveland Mayor Garfield Ladner.

Insurance coverage of $22,000 on the building and $5,000 on contents of the new county health center, approved at the May 9 session to be equally divided between Hancock Insurance Agency and John Scaffie, insurance agent, was awarded Monday in entirety to Scaffie in an attempt to give equal distribution to the local insurance agencies.

Board members said they had thought the board would distribute the new hospital insurance, a task undertaken by the hospital trustees who awarded the insurance equally between Hancock, Treutel and Merchants agencies. The health center coverage was given to Scaffie in an effort to equalize county insurance coverage, they said.

An addition of $74.55 to the health center contract price was approved to cover extra painting of the center interior caused by a change of colors. The original paint change cost $120, but was reduced after $45.45 of scheduled fixtures were deducted from the center. The revised contract price was set at $21,504.55.

Supervisors approved a $100 contribution to Gulfport radio station WCCM for coverage of Saturday's hospital dedication. Other station officials requested the funds to help defray expenses of the broadcast.

Clerk Claiborne Ladner was requested to ask a representative of Wells-Lewis Wood Primary School to meet with the board concerning a minimum amount of water to be provided by the school for the summer session.

Tentative plans call for dedication ceremonies to begin at 2 p.m. June 18, according to Lt. Irving Kingston, commanding officer of the 134th Light Transportation Co. An open house will follow and an extensive display of equipment is slated with helicopters, heavy engineering and amphibious units to be brought in so the public can be familiarized with the guard's scope. A dance will follow at 8 p.m. with Miss 134th Co. to be chosen at that time for a one-year reign.

School Sale...

no one was interested in buying the Sellers building as such and the plan is to check with some demolishing firms on their offer. There is also a 40-acre tract there. Sale must be by advertising for sealed bids.

Further information is expected when the board meets again at 2 p.m. Monday to take up property disposal along with final disposition on hiring teachers, transportation, payment of bills and insurance.

Mrs. C. C. McDonald questioned paying in full a contract bus driver who has not run several times in a given month. She said the matter had come to her attention in checking an average daily attendance report and suggested the board be informed of drivers' performance records. Superintendent K. G. McCarty said that next year they will be given one warning and dismissed if they fail to perform after that.

Several applicants for teaching jobs were interviewed and Powell asked the board to consider adopting a policy that after July 1, no one be employed without a B. S. degree.

from confusion among employees on duty at the time the patient was brought to the hospital. The sheriff's office was requested to come and get the patient for a preliminary hearing by hospital personnel who noted the patient had no transportation, Logue said.

Sheriff Price, who met with the board Monday night, said that while the patient was waiting in the sheriff's car for the preliminary hearing, the office received an emergency call and a representative of the highway patrol said he would return the patient to the hospital. His office is innocent of all accusations since charges were brought by the highway patrol, Price said.

"This incident has hurt me," he said, "but it will not stop our co-operation with the hospital." Price was accompanied by Justice of the Peace Nellus Rhodes, Deputy Sheriffs Gerald Price Jr. and Roland LaFontaine Jr., and office employee Mrs. Gerald Price Jr.

The incident is a total misunderstanding from all concerned, according to board president T. T. Reboul, who said the original letter was written since the board wanted to go on record saying it didn't condone this sort of action.

Price said he did not want the public to believe it was his fault as inferred in earlier publicity concerning the matter. Trustee K. W. Pepperdine noted that "some things are better not aired in the newspaper, but unfortunately the newspaper airs everything we say."

Hubert Thigpen, moved to write the apology, seconded by F. A. Selph. The trustees agreed to thoroughly investigate any other matters before taking similar action.

Logue commented he would stand behind his employees since he felt they did what they thought was right.

In other matters the board set daily patient room prices at $14 for a private room; $16 apiece for each of the two extra large private rooms with showers; and $10.50 for semi-private rooms, on the recommendation of Logue.

BEAUTY TIPS by Mercedes Spahr

MERCEDES' BEAUTY SALON Forest Ave., Clermont Harbor

WORKING WOMEN... Women who work have an extra reason to look pretty: They must please a boss as well as a husband or boy friend. Spending five days a week in the public eye presents problems. Sometimes you have to wedge in beauty care between housekeeping duties after five. Or you want to blossom out in the evening looking as fresh for the man-in-your life as you looked when you reported for work at 9 a.m. A career woman's beauty secret can be serenity—an inner confidence built from having your own personal beauty plan.

TWENTY MINUTE BEAUTY CARE... Count on twenty minutes a morning for regular beauty care. Start with a shining clean face. Use eye-wash to float away your sleepy look. Cover blemishes and lines with a make-up stick. Then smooth on regular make-up all over, blending it over your chin down into your neck. Apply rouge sparingly. Then powder over every inch of your face—even your eyes before adding eye make-up. Let the powder set five minutes, then blot off excess. (This keeps your nose from shining till the noon-hour touch-up.)

A BEAUTY LIFT FOR YOU... Busy business women need the lift that comes from a regular beauty salon appointment every week. It isn't only the flattery of a carefully-kept-up routine that counts. There's a special relaxation that comes from a professional shampoo. You can lose all your tensions as your beautician manipulates your scalp. And isn't it fun to watch someone make you look fresh and pretty? We think that's the nicest part of our world. For your beauty care and advice call MERCEDES' BEAUTY SALON, FOREST AVE., CLERMONT HARBOR HO 7-5202.

FROM UNDER THE DRYER: Beauty is truth, truth is beauty. But fashion gives every woman a license to lie.

Injuries Befall Shell Seismic Unit Families

Two injuries last week befell Shell Oil Co.'s seismic unit now operating in Hancock County, both affecting Waveland families of the firm.

Janice Johnson, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson of Coleman Avenue, tumbled out of a rear window at the family home and fell about eight feet to the ground, breaking her wrist in two places in the mishap. G. P. Stringer of Nicholson Avenue slipped on some oil on the drill barge just as the day's operations were concluding and suffered severe leg injuries when the limb became mangled in some machinery. He was sufficiently recovered to resume work Monday when the Shell exploration unit moved back to Bayou Caddy for its drilling in the Mississippi Sound.

Rescue Is Over-Night Affair

C. N. Finley, New Orleans, Harold Zimmerman, Waveland, three of Finley's employees and four would-be rescuers were unexpectedly out over Sunday night. Finley and his party left Sunday morning for a fishing trip in a 38-foot cabin cruiser but struck some submerged object and ripped a hole in the boat. They beached the boat on Isle Le Petri, Kiln Road.

lee, district engineer from the Hattiesburg office.

Anyone interested in the project is invited to attend and statements, written or oral, will be made on the economic effect of the proposal.

R. G. Hubbard Jr., president and Best 5 member of the board of supervisors, said virtually all documents on the necessary easements have been prepared and staking out the lines remains to be done. He estimated it will take about a month to secure the easements with construction probably starting in the fall.

With construction of a new road into Kiln, much of the traffic from this area headed towards Jackson and Hattiesburg, which now uses Rt. 49 out of Gulfport, is bound to use the Hancock County facility, he declared, citing the benefits which will accrue particularly to the Bay-Waveland area from the project.

Finley and his employees hailed a passing boat and were taken back to Bayou Caddy, leaving Zimmerman to take care of the beached craft.

Sunday afternoon Wilfred Bordages, Sam Bordages, Alphonse Favre Jr. and Herman Mazarakis, in Rene J. Tricon's yacht, went to Isle Le Petri to pump out Finley's boat and tow it into Bayou Caddy. En route some Picayune fishermen in distress flagged them down and they towed the fishermen to Bayou Caddy, returning to Isle Le Petri.

At midnight they discontinued pumping because of the choppy seas, resumed the work yesterday morning and towed the 38-footer to Bordages Camp about 11 a.m.

Zimmerman had one bright spot to report: while waiting for help he caught "a lot of fish."

Run Aways Cut Late Softball Trapani Routes, Regal Edges Stieffel

A planned two-week vacation at St. Margaret's daughters camp on South Beach Blvd., Bay St. Louis, for a group of unfortunate girls was cut short Monday when 10 of them ran away over the weekend.

The Sisters of the House of the Good Shepherd in New Orleans, who operate the camp, reported Wednesday that nine of the girls are now back in their custody. Three girls had left on Friday evening and the others on Sunday and on Monday morning.

The order takes care of wayward girls and said the incident had forced them to cut short their stay at the Bay by a week.

Both spoke in favor of the Right to Work amendment that Mississippians will vote on June 7. "The amendment has only one purpose," Aultman said. "It will guarantee that no person can be denied a job either because he is or is not a union member."

They said that Mississippi's economic growth under right to work has been the greatest in the state's history, pointing out that during the 1954-58 period wages of workers in manufacturing in the whole United States increased 17 per cent while in Mississippi the rate of increase was 28 per cent; that the number of new industrial jobs in the country increased 4.4 per cent while in Mississippi they increased 8.5 per cent, according to the U. S. Department of Labor. Chamber president A. G. Dan-

Trapani and Stieffel were again tied for the lead in Bay St. Louis Softball League standings after last night's games both with a 4-0 record. Coast Electric is a half game behind with 3-0 but could join the leaders by defeating Regal Friday night which would end the week in another three-way tie. Regal dropped to fourth with a 2-2 record.

Wednesday Trapani routed Carter 20-4 in a free-hitting affair, the Traps knocking out 21 hits to fatten their batting averages. The fireworks started in the second inning, Trapani scoring five runs on four hits that included a fence busting homer by sturdy Bobby Fayard. Carter came back in their half of the second to get four runs on four hits and it appeared that the fans were in for a close contest but in the top of the third the Trapani sluggers rekindled their fire and got ten runs on nine hits before being squelched. Carter was held to four hits and no runs for the remainder of the game winding up with eight fair hits.

Spectators were treated to a thriller-diller in the night-cap when Stieffel came off the floor to win in the last three innings 9-8. Regal started off with a pop and appeared to have things under control with a 5-1 lead going into the fourth but Stieffel put two men home in the fourth and won the game in the sixth on a wallpopping home run by slugger outfielder Her-

DO YOU THINK IT'S TOO LATE TO CHANGE MY CAREER?

The body was found by Reggie Bossier who notified authorities. Courtney said his wife became hysterical after the accident delaying her arrival at Picayune where he notified authorities.

Investigating officers were Dean and Deputy Sheriff Robert Coleman. A coroner's jury had not reached a verdict today but Dean said the death appeared accidental. Jurors are Patrick Jones, Rt. 1, Picayune; Joseph Leroy Blackman, Logtown; Russell Mitchell, Pearlinton; I. E. Bolken, Pearlinton; Wilbur McArthur, Logtown, and William Russ Hover, Pearlinton. Bailiff is Dean and acting coroner Neilus Rhodes.

The body was taken to a Picayune funeral home by a Fahey-Whitfield ambulance. Funeral arrangements were incomplete at press time. Carver was the son of Frank Carver, also of the Napoleon community.

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvair that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run... went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvair's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvair (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvair is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

When the lights go on tonight in Lone Dot

Twilight... and Lone Dot looms like a ghost town lost in the mountains! Then, as the lights blink on, you realize that rural electric lines have tied this isolated speck on your map to jet-age America. Now you know the conveniences of home are as near as the lighted windows that turn this lonely road into Main Street.

Bringing electricity to Lone Dot, and other out-of-way places, has been a modern-day "miracle." Before 1935, most people in rural America couldn't get electricity, at least at a price they could afford.

Then came the Rural Electrification Administration

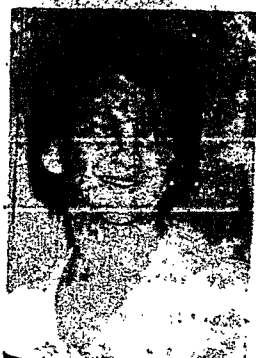

—the REA. Now for the first time, rural people could cooperate with their neighbors to bring electricity to rural areas. They organized into groups, borrowed money from the REA, and built their own electric lines.

Today, over 1,000 locally-owned electric systems—mostly cooperatives—serve schools, churches, homes, farms, and businesses all over rural America. Thousands of lighted Lone Dots—plus payments of more than $1 billion in principal and interest on $3½ billion REA loans—testify that rural electrification is one of the soundest investments our Nation has ever made.

than over for a Summit (peace) meeting.

The fact that President Eisenhower repeatedly called for some "cessation of the desire of the Russians for coming to grips with the problem of the cold war is indicative of his awareness of the real objective of the Russians and his reluctance to attend such a meeting. The President was faced with the proposition of having to go along with such a meeting in order to prevent Khrushchev from further propagandizing to the effect that America did not desire peace.

By the same token the President was forced to hold his temper and accept the insults heaped upon him and America with a minimum of outward resentment.

To sum it all up in brief, the sabotaging of the Summit Conference, which was after all initiated by Mr. Khrushchev, is but another move in the cold war. We know of no responsible person including the President who believes that this means a hot war. We may expect, therefore, a resumption of Mr. Khrushchev's past performances, blowing hot today and cold tomorrow.

DECLARE BRIDGE AN EMERGENCY

There came on for consideration the matter of a bridge which was washed out in a recent flash flood, said bridge being located on a road lying east of the Poplarville Highway, which road is a continuation of the Fire Tower road and extends from the Poplarville Highway eastwardly to the Joe Moran Highway, running from Kiln to Dedeaux, and the Board having duly considered the matter, finds that said road is used for a school route and that motor vehicle traffic is rather heavy on said road, and that an emergency situation exists. Whereupon Supervisor Necaise moved that a sum not to exceed Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars be immediately expended for the construction of a new bridge without the necessity of legal advertising since such a delay would cause undue hardship on the school children and the traveling public in general. The motion for the adoption of the foregoing order was duly seconded by Supervisor Lavinghouse and unanimously adopted.

LOCAL AND PRIVATE BILL

There came on for consideration the matter of excavating work, curbing and hard surfacing of a road leading from Dunbar Avenue across the Hancock General Hospital grounds to the County Indigent Home, and the Board having duly considered the matter finds that when the paving of the street in front of the new Hospital is completed a drainage problem will be created, because of the fact that the existing dirt road to the County Home is higher than the elevation of the road or street in front of the Hospital, and that in order to remedy this situation and provide a good road to the County Home, excavation work, curbing and hard surfacing could be done and the County does not now have sufficient funds on hand in the proper fund with which to do said work.

Whereupon Supervisor Lavinghouse moved that this Board requests its Representative in the State Legislature to introduce Local and Private Legislation authorizing and empowering this Board to use a sum not to exceed Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars out of any available fund for the purpose of excavating the above mentioned street, furnishing the necessary curbing and hard surfacing of said street.

Little League Gets 70
Seventy boys have signed up for Little League softball play in addition to Kila Youth Center program Mrs. Theo Tudury, chairman of the parks and playgrounds commission, said yesterday. The boys have been out every morning for practice. Season opens June 1.

A meeting of managers and sponsors is scheduled for 8 p.m. today at City Hall to discuss purchase of uniforms and other organizational problems.

The league is divided into two groups, the Minors and Majors, Mrs. Tudury said. The Minors consists of boys from nine through 12 and the Majors 13 through 16. Plans are that the boys will work their way from the Minors to the Majors and then to the regular league.

Miller of St. Charles Street are reported to have made a catch of 25 to 30 specks one day during the weekend. We didn't get the location but bet it was up the Jordan.

One of these days we are going to write a song titled Nobody Loves an Umpire but think Reuben Ruiz, Scooter Zimmerle and Louis Ladner should be commended for giving up so much time umpiring the games three nights a week. Same goes for Jack Ladner who does the scoring and announcing and does a bang-up job except when we ask for a play-by-play rundown the following day right in the middle of lunch.

Gov. Ross R. Barnett has issued a proclamation naming July 1-4 Mississippi Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo Days and urges all Mississippians to participate in the event. Gayle Parker, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Parker of Old Spanish Trail, will reign as queen of the rodeo.

A new honor is being initiated this year when the outstanding man on the Coast will be crowned King Neptune on the stage in the rodeo tent the evening before the opening. Robert L. Rice, rodeo president announced. An impartial group of judges will select the winner on the basis of service to his community and to the Coast as a whole, he said.

Wayne Allston with son and daughter Woody and Cathy took 50 soft shell crabs out of the Bay Monday night despite one casualty. Cathy got a leg cramp about half way through the trip and was a seawall flower for the rest of the night. We know that if she was lonesome, though, it was only because it was too dark for her to be seen.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Mitchell say they are going to change their fishing spot after getting Stuy-three trout were landed at Half Moon Monday by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stewart of River Gardens Subdivision on the Jordan and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Stokes of Memphis, Tenn., who report they are enjoying their visit and say they have never seen such excellent fishing.

Business is picking up at Half Moon, Campbell's Bayou and the other favorite spots around Anseley so take advantage of it before the water gets too hot. Plenty good catches are being made in the Bay and up the Jordan, too—trout are still taking lures along the bridges.

Monday's Play Puts League in 3-Way Tie

The Bay Softball League was tied up in a three-way knot after Monday's games with Trapani, Stieffel and Coast Electric each boasting a three win, no loss record.

Coast Electric, a dark horse in the league, blasted Bankston 10-2 Monday night, a home run by W. J. Cameron helping salt away the game in the early innings.

In the opener, Kila broke into the win column downing favored Youth Center 9-4. It was a fairly even game but Youth Center had an off night and couldn't get up steam. Third baseman Paul Miller got two hits off pitcher Truman Schultz to lead the local lads in hitting who racked up eight for the night.

Youth Center manager Donald Caldwell announced he was playing the game under protest when nights a week. Same goes for Jack Ladner who does the scoring and announcing and does a bang-up job except when we ask for a play-by-play rundown the following day right in the middle of lunch.

umpire Reuben Ruiz, calling the shots from behind the plate, ruled catcher Wilmer Seymour out for stepping out of the batters' box when hitting the ball. Caldwell contended Seymour's footprint showed he had stepped on the line and the official softball rulebook says the batter must step completely out of the box to be called out. Ruiz ruled he did step out of the box making the second time this season Seymour has been called out for that reason.

In Friday's games Stieffel continued its winning streak out-hitting KC to win 17-6 in the opener. In the nightcap Regal, displaying a powerful hitting attack, took a thriller from a strong Carter team 8-3.
